What is a Law Opportunity Tuition Fellowship?

The College of Law is committed to affording opportunities for legal careers to persons historically underrepresented in the legal profession. The Law Opportunity Fellowship (LOF) program was established by the University to provide access to law school for students from groups and backgrounds historically underrepresented within the legal community. Among the criteria considered in awarding the fellowships are: educationally and/or socio-economically disadvantaged backgrounds, leadership potential, and academic merit.

Do I need to do anything to receive my LOF?

To receive your LOF award you must also apply for financial aid each academic year and submit all of the required forms as soon as possible for the upcoming academic year. Please complete the appropriate Free Application for Federal Student Aid \(FAFSA\). You will be considered for Federal Direct Student Loans after you complete the FAFSA and required documents.

Renewal for the second and third years of the fellowship requires that the fellowship recipient remain in good academic and professional standing at the College of Law. For complete renewal details, see our website.

How do I apply for Federal Student Loans?

We did not consider your eligibility for financial need with this award of a fellowship. To apply for federal student loans, you must complete the appropriate FAFSA. You will be considered for Federal Direct Student Loans after you complete the FAFSA and required documents. Check your MyUI Financial To Do List for more information on next steps.

Where do I find information on tuition and fees?

Tuition rates are set by the Iowa Board of Regents. Rates are available on our website.

Could anything change regarding my financial support?

The financial support described herein is subject to the availability of funds and compliance with applicable law and University policy.

What is the difference between mandatory fees and enrollment-based fees?

Mandatory Fees are required for all students. Enrollment-based (found in the Tuition & Fee section in MyUI) are based on a student's enrollment in a particular course. Enrollment-based fees are not covered by Merit Tuition or Law Opportunity Fellowships (Enrollment based fees include elective experiences like Study Abroad).
