To ascertain your Exam ID# which you will use for each exam this spring requiring an anonymous submission, please use the following process if you have an active Examsoft account. (If you purchased and downloaded Examplify for exams in the fall of 2019, you will still have an active account).

Here is the process:

2. Login in under the “Exam Takers” section, which should take you to a HawkID login page.
3. To find your Exam ID, click on the settings icon in the top righthand corner of the page (next to your name), and then click on “My Account.” Your Exam ID will be listed in the information provided.

Please note: Your ID# will NOT be the same one you were assigned in the fall. These numbers were updated in March.

If you do not have an active Examsoft account, please send an email to Law-Exams@uiowa.edu and you will receive your Exam ID# in an email reply.
